Compliance Manager

Group Role, based in Antwerp HQ

MISSION

- Further develop, implement and maintain a comprehensive group-wide compliance framework covering AML, legal, and ESG obligations. Ensure adherence to regulatory requirements and best practices concerning anti-money laundering (AML), know your customer (KYC), corporate governance, and ethical business conduct.
- Monitor the organisation's compliance with ESG standards and take ownership of the preparation and delivery of the group's annual ESG report.
- Lead the preparation, coordination and follow-up of internal and external compliance audits, including statutory audits, DTC BPP (De Beers Best Practice Principles) reviews, RJC (Responsible Jewellery Council) certifications, and ESG-related third-party verifications.
- Oversee traceability and pipeline integrity audits across IGC's diamond value chain, ensuring transparency and ethical sourcing from mine to market.
- Conduct regular compliance risk assessments and implement risk mitigation strategies across AML and ESG domains.
- Design and deliver training programs to build compliance knowledge and accountability throughout the organisation.
- Establish mechanisms to detect and report breaches of compliance, lead investigations, and implement corrective measures.
- Act as primary liaison with regulatory authorities, auditors, industry certification bodies and sustainability-related institutions.
- Stay abreast of changes in relevant legislation and industry standards; proactively advise senior management on risk areas and implications.
- Collaborate with operational teams to ensure practical and risk-based implementation of compliance and ESG procedures across the supply chain.
- Strengthen internal reporting and dashboards to monitor compliance KPIs and ESG progress.
- Reporting directly to the Group CFO in Antwerp.

PROFILE

- Master's degree in Law, Business Administration, Economy, Sustainability, Risk or related fields.
- An extensive and relevant experience in compliance, risk or audit functions, ideally in a complex international environment (e.g. manufacturing, supply chain, pharma, energy, consumer goods, mining, logistics, financial services).
- Demonstrated ability to set up or improve a group-wide compliance function, including AML controls and ESG governance.
- Knowledge of regulatory frameworks such as OECD Due Diligence Guidance, CSRD, GRI or other ESG standards.
- Familiarity with BPP, AML/KYC, RJC and Kimberley Process is a plus, or strong willingness to acquire expertise in these areas.
- Experience with traceability systems, pipeline control mechanisms or audit frameworks related to ethical sourcing is a strong asset.
- Strategic and structured mindset with a hands-on approach; able to design policies as well as oversee their practical implementation.
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills; capable of advising senior leadership and building trust across cultures and functions.
- Strong personality, with a high level of autonomy, resilience, and ownership.
- Excellent command of English; other languages (Dutch, French) are an asset.
- Willingness to travel internationally.
